

FIRM'S FUNDRAISER FOR MACMILLAN

Tildesley and Tonks, the Wolverhampton Chartered Accountants and business advisers, held a coffee morning in aid of Macmillan Cancer Support as part of Macmillan's Create a Big Stir 2007, at their offices at Pendeford Business Park.

The company raised £510 on the day.

Neighbouring businesses on the park on Wobaston Road brought cakes and joined in the event on Friday, October 5

Kerrie Edwards of Tildesley and Tonks provided all of the home-made cakes.

Mark Evans, managing director of Tildesley and Tonks, said: "I'm delighted with the response from our neighbours and the money we have raised. The coffee morning was a great opportunity for people on the Business Park to come out of their offices and network with other businesses.

"More importantly, my father, Don, died from cancer on August 5 this year, and throughout his illness the Macmillan nurses were there, not just for him but for all of my family. Their dedication, support and care was incalculable and I wanted to give something back."

MD Mark Evans and staff at Tildesley and Tonks welcomed neighbouring firms to take part in the fundraiser

Director raises £500 in memory of father

A businessman has raised £510 for a cancer charity in memory of his late father.

Mark Evans, managing director of chartered accountants Tildesley and Tonks on Pendeford Business Park, and his colleagues held a coffee morning in aid of Macmillan Cancer Support as part of the charity's Create a Big Stir 2007.

Neighbouring businesses in Wobaston Road brought cakes and joined in the event, which was held on Friday. Mr Evans said: "I'm delighted with the response from our neighbours and the money we have raised. The coffee morning was a great opportunity for people on the business park to come out of their offices and network.

"My father Don died from cancer on August 5 this year and throughout his illness the Macmillan nurses were there, not just for him but for all of my family. Their dedication, support and care was incalculable."